You will need:

Several packets of powdered desert mix (butterscotch or vanilla flavour)

Food colouring (yellow, red, orange, black)

Large dish or tray

Hand mixer or whisk

Non-edible items:

Pipettes / droppers

Thin paintbrushes

Small pots for food colouring mixture

Method

1. Make up the desert mix, as per the instructions on the packet. The mixture needs to be mixed to a thick and creamy consistency.
2. Dilute a few drops of food colouring with water and put in small pots around the tray.
3. Show the children how they can use the pipettes and paintbrushes to put several drops of colour onto the mixture, then move the brush through the colour to form stripes and patterns.
4. Experiment with different colour and shape combinations.
5. Have fun together, identifying different animal prints in the colours and shapes created.
